NURSING NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

NATIONAL

The Convention.—The biennial convention of the American Nurses' Association will be held April 12-17, at Atlanta, Ga. The meetings will be held in The Tabernacle.

Hotels.—The Piedmont Hotel will be headquarters, with rates varying from $2 to $6 a day. Other hotels are: Hotel Ansley, $2-$4; The Cecil, $2-$5; Georgian Terrace, $2.50-$25; Hotel Winecoff, $2-$3; Imperial Hotel, $2-$6; Kimball House, $1.50-$2; Marion Hotel, $1.25-$1.50; The Pickwick, $1.50-$3.50. Nurses intending to attend the convention should engage rooms at once and should write to the hotels for particulars, as to whether the room has a bath, what the rates are for one person, for two, etc.

Credential Cards.—Credential cards have been sent to the secretaries of paidup state associations, in proportion to their membership, one for each fifty members. In large states, where there are many cards, those not needed for the delegates who directly represent the state should be distributed among the districts, so that any nurse who attends the convention paying her own expenses, or having them paid by a district or an alumnae association, may be made a state delegate, as well. Every state should see that all its credential cards are used, but these must be signed by the state president or secretary before being sent out. Delegates having proxy votes should bring as many cards as they have votes.

The Ticket of Nominations is printed on the pamphlet of instructions to delegates and may also be found in the March Journal.

The Programmes for the meetings of the three national organizations will be found in the March Journal. Some changes have been made since these were published, but in the main, that outline will be followed.

TWO-DAY SPECIAL SESSIONS OF THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING, APRIL 9 AND 10

While the regular sessions of the convention will open on the 12th, arrangement has been made for special groups to meet concurrently on April 9 and 10. These meetings will be informal in character. They will be open to any guests who care to attend, though they are especially designed for the nurses interested in infant welfare and school nursing, tuberculosis and industrial nursing. These sessions will take the form of conferences, and will be arranged for those working in cities and for small town and rural nurses.

ARMY NURSE CORPS

The policy has been adopted to replace all nurses serving with the American Forces in Germany, at the expiration of two years of service overseas. In accordance with this plan, Chief Nurse Elizabeth J. Kenny, Chief Nurse Rae D. Landy, Nurses Marie E. Cloherty, Theresa Cloherty, Elenora Guertin, Kathleen Tee Van, Isabella M. Flewwelling, Bridget A. Mullaney, Lucy Morris, Kathryn M. McCarthy, Ada Sturgis, and Magdalen C. Fisher were sent to Coblenz, Germany, in February, to replace nurses whose two years of foreign service had expired.

Chief Nurse Katherine C. Hannan and twelve nurses, having completed one year of duty at Evacuation Hospital No. 17, Vladivostok, Siberia, recently reported at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, California. As all troops are being withdrawn from Siberia, the remaining nurses will shortly be returned.

One hundred forty-six nurses were discharged from the Army Nurse Corps during February, and Ethel J. Cole, Sydney Hall, Annie L. Hart, Carrie May Jones, Fannie Kuhlig, Lulu M. Morley, Jean O'Leary, Clara Swenson, and Viola Horn Swindell were appointed into the Corps. Eighteen nurses were transferred from the Reserve to the Regular Corps.

Two more names have been added to the honor list of nurses who gave their lives in the service of their country, those of Nurse Martha A. Browne, who died at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, on February 26, 1920, and Nurse Allicia Lea Cage, who died at General Hospital No. 2, Fort McHenry, Maryland, on February 29, 1920.

The British Military Attache has recently notified the Surgeon General that all American medical officers, nurses, and men of the Medical Department, who were ordered by proper authority for duty with the British Army, are entitled to the British War Medal and that it will be issued to them in due time. In the meanwhile, nurses authorized to receive this medal may order the ribbon representing the medal from Mayer's Military Shop, 1331 F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., at a cost of twenty-five cents per pin.

In order to clear up what seems to be a fairly general misapprehension regarding the matter, this opportunity is taken to explain that members of the Army Nurse Corps, either regular or reserve, do not get a special form of "Discharge Papers." Members of the Regular Corps receive upon their admission to the service, a Letter of Appointment. When they leave the service, the final notation upon their letter of appointment states:

With the approval of the Secretary of War, and by order of the Surgeon General, dated _____, the nurse within named is honorably discharged from the Army Nurse Corps, to take effect_____.

United States Army.

A Reserve Nurse, when admitted to the service, receives a Letter of Assignment, and when she is separated from the service, a final notation is made upon her letter of assignment as follows:

With the approval of the Secretary of War, and by order of the Surgeon General, dated _____, the reserve nurse within named is relieved from active service in the Military Establishment, to take effect_____

United States Army.

This is considered the same as an honorable discharge. No other "Discharge Papers" are issued. The letter of appointment or assignment, with all the notations upon its reverse side, and the final statement of separation from service, is all that a nurse has as an evidence of her service in the Corps, and should therefore be carefully guarded. Should it become lost, a statement to this effect, made before a notary public, must be sent to the office of the Surgeon General before a duplicate certificate of service, giving the important facts of the nurse's service,—admission, discharge, etc.—can be issued to her. A great deal of confusion and delay in adjusting claims of all sorts has been caused by the loss on the part of nurses, of their letters of appointment or assignment after their separation from the service.

The question of preparing and issuing a special "Discharge Paper" for members of the Army Nurse Corps, is now being considered, as is also the matter of a special service record.

Through the kindness of the Surgeon General and the Commanding Officer of General Hospital No. 6, Fort McPherson, Georgia, arrangements have been made whereby a number of chief nurses from the eastern part of the United States can be sent to Atlanta for the convention of the nursing associations. These chief nurses will be entertained at General Hospital No. 6, Atlanta, where Miss Alice Agnew is chief nurse.

The nurses who were on duty in France with the B. E. F. will be interested to know that the Secretary of War has sent an invitation to Dame Maud McCarthy, who was Matron-in-Chief of the B. E. F., to visit New York, Washington, and Atlanta, as a guest of the Army Nurse Corps. It is not known yet whether Dame McCarthy will be able to accept the invitation, but if she does every effort will be made to assure Miss McCarthy of the appreciation and gratitude that the American nurses feel toward her because of her interest and concern for the welfare of those of their number who were under her charge.

It has been definitely decided that the Army School of Nursing will be continued. A branch of the school will be maintained at Walter Reed General Hospital, and probably one at Letterman General Hospital. The idea of retaining the school is to conduct a model training school, demonstrating the advantages that a training school has which is maintained by the Army, because in the Army the school can be run as an independent organization—a separate, educational institution—upon which the hospital does not depend for its nursing force. New students will be admitted as probationers to the Army School of Nursing in May and June, and will be stationed at Walter Reed, where the equipment of the class rooms, laboratory, and demonstration rooms for the school are unique in their completeness and excellence of detail. There are nurse instructors, whose whole duty it is to be in charge of the education of the students, and a large number of officers of the staff have as a special part of their duties, the instruction of student nurses. Since the students of the Army School are not counted as part of the nursing staff of the Army Hospitals where they are stationed, and since shortage of employees does not affect the work of student nurses in any way, the class work and regular routine of the school can be carried on without interruption, unless an emergency of great severity arises.

> Julia C. Stimson, Superintendent, Army Nurse Corps.
